A Florida resident just published her first Coloring Book inspired by Florida's beloved Pink Flamingo! Native to Florida, Pink Flamingos remind us to honor the beauty in nature and in life in every exquisite detail. Twenty seven original illustrations by artist Patricia Filomeno who has lived on Anna Maria Island for the past seven years with husband Rainer Scheer. Patricia was born in Peru and is a proud Florida resident for the last twenty five years. Other than being an artist, Patricia is also the owner of Ink Graphics Media, a local digital marketing firm and Florida Furniture Rental, a furniture rental company.

"It's all about listening to that voice inside your head and following up on that dream with an action plan. Was not an easy task, creating coloring pages is harder than you might think and I am proud of this accomplishment"

Beauty and brightness illustrated, Patricia wanted to showcase on her Pink Flamingo coloring pages typical Florida scenes, One page shows the beloved "Pink Flamingo Floatie" in a pool inside a summer drink you would get at a pool party, there is one of a flamingo on top of an alligator and of course a "Flamingo Sunshine Skyway Bridge".

Now that the book is finally finished I get to have fun coloring my own coloring book!

Self publishing a book has been a wonderful learning process, "I know how to do this and now it is just a matter of letting the world know about this new adventure. To start I have decided to sell this book via Amazon due to its incredible reach with audiences around the world."

What is next?

I am already planning my second book which will be released on time for the holidays.

Florida's Pink Flamingo Coloring Book is now available on Amazon
